

Dear All,

Following the announcement last week of two grants related to the EuroBio 2006 Career Fair and the ensuing requests for further information.

EuroBio 2006 Career Fair

EuroBio 2006 Career Fair is a three-day event. On Wednesday 25th October there are One-to-One interviews between recruiters and job seekers. On Thursday 26th October there are two Career Fair symposia and a Round Table. All participants may attend the One World Grand Plenary Session and EuroBio Take Home Messages on Friday 26th. Don't forget: you do not need to wait to be convened to a job interview. It's a tremendous opportunity, bringing together companies, universities and job seekers.

TO MARK THIS OCCASION EUROBIO IS HAPPY TO ANNOUNCE TWO TRAVEL GRANTS:

The first to attend the EuroBio 2006 Career Fair to be held in Paris from 25-27 October
The second to attend the AAAS Annual Meeting in San Francisco from 15-19 February 2007

EuroBio Grant

The winner of this grant to attend the EuroBio 2006 Career Fair will be drawn at random on Friday 20th October from a list of candidates having completed the two-stage registration process at <http://www.eurobio2006.com/eurobiojobs/candidate/candidate.php>

The EuroBio grant includes:

Travel costs (to be reimbursed post event)

Hotel: the winner will stay at the Hotel Concorde Lafayette with EuroBio's Guest Speakers and VIPs for the duration of the event.

One Full Pass to EuroBio 2006

Grant to attend AAAS Annual Meeting in San Francisco

The AAAS Annual Meeting is an international science and technology extravaganza that influences science professionals around the world. The range of topics makes it the year's most important gathering for the growing segment of the science, technology, and engineering communities interested in—or impacted by—interactions among disciplines.

The winning candidacy will be drawn at random at the end of the ScienceCareers symposium "From Patent to Profit: Commercialising your Research" on Thursday 26th October from those candidates present at the Symposium, having completed the two-stage registration for the EuroBio 2006 Career Fair.

The AAAS grant covers:

Free flight (economy) to San Francisco,
Registration to attend the AAAS meeting and Hotel.

PLEASE FORWARD THIS EMAIL TO ALL FRIENDS AND COLLEAGUES WHO MAY BE INTERESTED!

Good luck!

Robert Heath
